BIOGRAPHICAL/HISTORICAL NOTE

The Public Safety Committee (also referred to as the Bridgewater Committee of Public Safety or the Safety Committee, and before January 1942, it was referred to as the Bridgewater Civilian Committee on Defense, the Bridgewater Civilian Committee on National Defense, the Citizens Defense Committee, the Local Defense Committee, or the Bridgewater Defense Committee) held its first meeting on July 9, 1940.

The scrapbooks in this collection are believed to have been compiled by Miss A. Evelyn Keith, town accountant, from photographs sent in by individuals serving in the military.

Keith, along with Leo F. Nourse, Arthur E. Pratt, Ronald Atwood, James R. Moore, and Edward F. McGinn, was also a sponsor of the News Scribblings from Town Hall, Bridgewater, Mass newsletter (also referred to as Scribblings) which was mailed to military personnel from Bridgewater at the end of every month from beginning in July 1943 to approximately 1946. As of August 28, 1944 approximately 850 copies of Scribblings were sent as well as 250 copies of the Boston Herald and 200 copies of the Brockton Enterprise. As of September 24, 1945, approximately 950 copies of scribblings were sent, and by November 30, 1946 this number dropped to 110. Some of the postage for Scribblings appears to have been solicited from Bridgewater residents.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

This collection contains records related to the Town of Bridgewater's involvement in World War II including correspondence sent by the town to military personnel, records of the Public Safety Committee, two scrapbooks with photographs of individuals in the service, and two scrapbooks with newspaper clippings about individuals in the service.

ARRANGEMENT

The collection is arranged in three series as follows:

Series I. Correspondence, 1943-1946

Series II. Public Safety Committee records, 1940-1945

Series III. Scrapbooks, approximately 1942-1945

Series I: Correspondence, 1943-1946

Scope and Content Note: Series I contains photocopies (and duplicate photocopies) of correspondence sent by the Town of Bridgewater to Bridgewater residents serving in the military during World War II, including the “News Scribblings from Town Hall, Bridgewater, Mass” newsletter as well as copies of the Boston Herald and Brockton Enterprise. It also contains original cards, six “merry christmas” cards with the names Leo F. Nourse, Arthur E. Pratt, Ronald Atwood, James R. Moore, Edward F. McGinn, and A. Evelyn Keith (the sponsors of Scribblings) printed, and one unsigned sympathy card.

There are copies of following issues of Scribblings:

Series II: Public Safety Committee records, 1940-1945

Scope and Content Note: Series II contains records of the Public Safety Committee also referred to as the Bridgewater Committee of Public Safety or the Safety Committee. Before January 1942, it was referred to as the Bridgewater Civilian Committee on Defense, the Bridgewater Civilian Committee on National Defense, the Citizens Defense Committee, the Local Defense Committee, or the Bridgewater Defense Committee. The following subcommittees/divisions are mentioned:

- Communications
- Decontamination squad
- Executive
- General
- Information of subversive activities
- Medical
- Necessities
- Personnel and promotion of enlistment
- Planning
- Protection/protective
- Publicity
- Rehabilitation
- Service and supply
- Supplies and finance
- Transportation
- Utilities
- Women's

This series is predominantly meeting minutes and orders drawn but also includes committee rosters, a list of Bridgewater men in military service as of July 17, 1940, and an organization chart for the Safety Committee.

Minutes deal with military recruitment from 1940-1945, wartime preparedness and planning, women's defense courses, blackout preparation, the soldier's canteen, evacuation planning, air raid preparations, and visits from US Army Civilian Defense program representatives. In 1945 there are also mentions of victory gardens and rehabilitation.

Records have been removed from their original binder due to preservation concerns.

Extent: 0.05 linear feet

Arrangement: Original order of the records has been maintained and is generally organized into three sections: committee rosters, meeting minutes, and orders drawn (financial), which are then organized chronologically.
